Re: Shooting into Occupied/Aggravated Assault
Location: Sandy Park Apartments
(1049 Brentwood Drive, apartment 507)
Date of Incident: January 14, 2012
Time: 5:57PM
Case Number: 20120000717

Following are preliminary details from an event currently being investigated:

The Daytona Beach Police Department (DBPD) responded to the Sandy Park Apartments tonight (1049 Brentwood Avenue) after several people reported that someone had fired a handgun into an apartment.

Arriving officers learned that a black male suspect was observed firing a handgun into apartment 507 and then fleeing on foot. Several witnesses identified the gunman as Terry Fluker and saw him run towards the Sunoco gas station located at 895 N Nova Road.

DBPD officers and deputies from the Volusia County Sheriff's Office located the suspect in the men's room at the Sunoco station. Incident to the suspect's arrest, officers found a 9mm handgun and ammunition in the suspect's possession.

The suspect was positively identified as Terry Demetrius Fluker, 03/05/71, and transported to the DBPD Headquarters Building.

During the course of the investigation, detectives from the Robbery/Homicide Unit learned that Fluker had been quarrelling with his girlfriend's grandmother (who is one of the victims). Fluker travelled to the victim's apartment and became enraged and fired one round from the 9mm into the living room of the apartment.

Although no one was injured in the shooting, detectives learned the bullet came within inches of the victim's head.

Incidentally, the handgun used by Fluker was reported stolen in 2011. In that incident, an armed security guard accidentally left his 9mm handgun in the men's room at the Allied Veteran's Center (1348 W International Speedway Boulevard). A black male suspect was observed entering and exiting the bathroom just after the security guard.

In addition to the myriad of charges Fluker faces tonight, he has now become a suspect in the theft of the handgun (a felony).

(The Allied Veteran's Center is an "internet café." Internet cafes generally sell web-surfing time and/or phone cards providing players with credits to play casino-style games for cash prizes.)

Tonight Fluker was arrested and transported to the Volusia County Branch Jail.
